

AD 61/2 - C114 PLINY the Younger

Gaius Plinius Calpurnius Secundus, of Como in northern Italy was the nephew and adopted son of Pliny the Elder. A wealthy highly educated man of affairs, litterateur, and lawyer he had a long public career culminating in the governorship of Bithynia (AD 111-113)

Pliny's elevation to the consulship (AD 100)

61-63

Paul is imprisoned at Rome, then set free. Possibly he visits Spain,

C 61-63

Letter to the Ephesians

Letter of St. Paul to Christians at Ephesus, Asia Minor

C 61-63

10th book of New Testament

61AD

Revol<sup>t</sup> of BOUDICCA in England

PUBLIUS CAECILIUS SECUNDUS

Born at COMO in 61

Orphaned early, Publius was adopted and educated first by Virginius Rufus, gov. of Upper Germany, and then by his uncle CAIUS PLENIUS SECUNDUS (author of the NATURAL HISTORY), at 18 (79). He was admitted to the bar at 39 (100). He was chosen to give the address of welcome to TRAJAN

61

Boudicca was defeated.

61 AD.

Welsh campaign of Paulinus Revolt of the Iceni under BOADICCA; revolt crushed
by Paulinus.